

Heather Mistele, CSI

Heather exemplifies Ralph Waldo Emerson's quote "Be an opener of doors", a treasured attribute when you require attention to detail and customer service that exceeds expectations. Heather is an Architectural Consultant at Allegion, representing the Chicagoland region and is a member of CSI and AIA. She has over 20 years of experience in the industry working alongside developers, general contractors and architects with varying types of projects in hospitality, healthcare, K-12 and multi-family. Heather assists the Greater Chicago architectural community with product knowledge, coordination of specification writing, submittal reviews and code consulting. Heather believes in the importance of safety and security and knows the value of bringing not only her knowledge but also enthusiasm to each project and architectural firm.
